Day For Night / Directed by Helene Risser & Helene Fresnel

Broadcasters: Public Senat

The politicians' relationship to power is one reason of the French political crisis. François Fillon showcased his probity to be elected at the right-wing's primary but we found out that he did not apply those principles to himself. It showed which mental mechanisms lead a man to feel exempt from what is a mere moral rule for other people. Those who thought they would change the presidential function were actually changed by it. As if power impacted brain more than brain impacts power. What are the effects of political power? Which role does it play on the drifts we recently witnessed?

When the State refused to cooperate, the families of victims decided to make the film themselves. This film, sprinkled with rare archival images, takes a look at the dark years of Guatemalan history, shows the impossibility of mourning for the families deprived of bodies and is an homage to their bitter fight for justice.
